Welcome home, Ember!

Hope the conference was productive. Thanks for your publisher updates.

Here is the info on Tom Nelson's career path since he left the office of Education Commissioner:

- (1) He finished his education administration degree at the U of M.
- (2) He served as superintendent in Jackson Hole, Wyoming, for 3 years.
- (3) He served as superintendent in Buffalo, MN, for 10 years.
- (4) He retired for one year.
- (5) He came back and served as supt. in South Washington County for four years.
- (6) He retired for one year.
- (7) He came back and has served this year as interim supt. in Stillwater. He's finishing up now and a new supt. has been hired.

Busy man! I wished him well on his next retirement and we decided to call it a sabbatical.

John Kostouros's article is within reach. We connected and he's made a copy of the article, but he forgot to leave it on his porch, as promised, when I biked over to pick it up yesterday. We talked again and I'm just waiting for his call, when he's sure it's on his porch. He lives nearby, so it's not a problem to go back.

I'm listening to Durenberger tape to get relevant quotes.
